Section 2. Parenting Leave (Paid and Unpaid)

A. Granting of Parenting Leave

The Employer grants Parenting Leave in accordance with applicable law.

In accordance with Minnesota law, the Employer will grant up to six (6) weeks leave in conjunction with the birth or adoption of a child. This leave will be granted to an employee who has worked for Employer an average of half time or more during the preceding twelve (12) months and who becomes a biological or adoptive parent. The leave begins at the time requested by the employee, but not more than six weeks after the birth or adoption, or if the child must remain in the hospital longer than the mother, not more than six weeks after the child leaves the hospital. Generally, the employee must make a request for leave at least thirty (30) days in advance, unless an unforeseeable event occurs. Then the notice must be given as soon as practicable. Parenting Leave will be applied equally to male and female employees.

In accordance with the federal Family and Medical Leave Act, the Employer will grant up to twelve (12) weeks leave in conjunction with the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. This leave will be granted in accordance with the Employer's FMLA policy as explained in Article 13, Section 3), Paragraph (e) below. Generally, this leave will be granted to any employee who becomes a biological, adoptive or foster parent and who has worked for Employer at least twelve (12) months and at least 1250 hours during the previous twelve (12) month period. Under certain circumstances specified by the FMLA, this leave can begin before the actual birth of the child. Generally, the employee must make a request for leave at least thirty (30) days in advance, unless an unforeseeable event occurs. Then, the notice must be given as soon as practicable. Employees should review the FMLA Policy for additional information and requirements. FMLA leave will be applied equally to male and female employees.

If an employee is eligible for leave under both laws, both leaves will run concurrently (at the same time). Therefore, an employee who is eligible for leave under both laws will be eligible for a total of up to twelve (12) weeks leave.

B. Requirements

The following requirements apply when an employee takes Parenting Leave:

1. During unpaid leave the Employer will continue to make health insurance coverage available. The employee will be responsible for the entire cost of the premium. NOTE: If the employee is also eligible for FMLA leave, the Employer will pay its share of the insurance premium during the FMLA leave, in accordance with the Employer's FMLA Policy.
2. Upon returning to work, the employee will be entitled to return to the former position or one of comparable duties, number of hours, and pay. If the employee is also eligible for FMLA leave, the employee will be returned to work in accordance with Employer's FMLA Policy.

4. The employee will retain length of service time for the purpose of benefits calculation. That is, the length of service accrued before the unpaid leave is maintained during the unpaid leave. Upon return to work, length of service calculations are resumed in the same manner and at the same level as when unpaid leave began. Employees are not entitled to accrue any time off benefits during unpaid leave.

C. Payment During Leave

The Employer views disability due to pregnancy or childbirth the same way as any disability caused by injury or illness. The policy and procedures on extended illness or disability will therefore apply when employees are unable to return to work due to the effects of pregnancy or childbirth. Employees should contact the Human Resource Department to determine whether they are eligible for benefits under these plans.

PTO, sick, and disability leave may be used concurrently (at the same time).

Section 3. Leaves of Absence Without Pay initial active duty for training, inactive duty training, full-time National Guard duty, and absences from employment for purposes of an examination to determine the employee's fitness to perform such duty. Any employee who wishes to participate in such activities should request a leave of absence from their supervisor within a reasonable time before the leave is to begin, if possible. The agency may require proof of military service.

Military leave is unpaid. However, employees may elect to use accrued leave benefits (for example, PTO pay).

If the employee's military service is less than 31 days, Employer will continue to pay its share of health insurance premiums. The employee will be responsible for paying the employee's portion of the premium. An employee who takes a military leave of absence beyond the 31 days is entitled to continue his/her health plan coverage for up to 24 months at the employee's own expense, as provided under COBRA.

The Employer will reinstate the employee as provided by applicable law. The employee will be entitled to return to the former position or one of comparable duties, number of hours, and pay. For the purposes of benefits calculation, employees will be reinstated with length of service time they would have had but for the military service. Upon return to work, the employee will receive any benefits based on length of service (for example, automatic adjustments) that would have occurred during the leave.

Upon reemployment, the Employer will provide job protection as provided by applicable law.

C. School Conferences and Activities Leave

With reasonable notice, up to sixteen (16) hours in a calendar year may be granted to an employee to attend school conferences, classroom and other school activities, child care services, and pre-kindergarten program activities related to the employee's child, provided they cannot be scheduled during non-work hours. 3. Employees who are not eligible for FMLA leave may be eligible for other types of leave under Employer leave policies including Sick Bank, PTO, parental leave, leave of absence, or drug free workplace.

5. The Employee must ordinarily provide 30 days advance notice when the leave is "foreseeable."
6. The Employer will require medical certification to support a request for leave because of a serious health condition, and may require second or third opinions (at the Employer's expense) and will require a fitness for duty report prior to the employee's return to work.

Contact your Human Resources Representative, or refer to the Catholic Charities Employee Handbook, for further information regarding FMLA or for the forms needed to Apply for FMLA.

F. Medical Leave (non-FMLA)

If an employee who does not qualify for a FMLA leave is faced with extended illness or injury, s/he may request non-FMLA medical leave as set forth below, in accordance with applicable law:

1. Except in a pregnancy disability situation, which qualifies under the Minnesota Parental Leave Act, the employee must use all accumulated Sick Bank and may choose to use any PTO accrued to date.
2. Should the illness or injury extend beyond the accrued Sick Bank (and PTO, if employee chooses to use) the employee may apply for a medical leave. A medical leave will be granted based on a physician's statement that the employee cannot return to work.
3. The agency reserves the right to require an employee to be examined by a second physician, selected and paid by SJHC, in those instances where the employee's return to work is in question.

4. If a medical leave does not exceed forty-five (45) calendar days, the employee will be returned to his/her position or one that is similar in pay, number of scheduled work hours, and duties.

Employees who think they qualify should apply for benefits under the Employee Short Term Disability (STD) Plan or Employee Disability Insurance Policy. For additional information, consult the Summary Plan Description (SPD).
